

okPORK is now accepting applications for the Excellence Award. This is a new award to recognize individuals in all areas of pork production for an exceptional commitment to doing their best every day. Nominees for the Excellence Award can come from any sector of pork production. The nominee has made their role in the pork industry more than just a job – they consider being part of the pork industry a profession.

We have structured this award to be similar to the Pork All-American award National Pork Board used to award. Nominees do NOT have to currently be okPORK members. okPORK will present this award to 1-4 pork producers each year. Awards will be presented at the Oklahoma Pork Congress.
